Franklin D. Roosevelt

FUN FACT:

Franklin D. Roosevelt visited the warm springs 41 times before death!

Early life

Franklin D. Roosevelt was born on the 30th of January 1882 in Hyde park, New York. He came from a wealthy New York family before heading to do something better for himself. A few years after leaving home he graduated from Harvard in 1904 and married his distant cousin Anna Eleanor Roosevelt and had 6 children (Anna, James, Elliot, Franklin, John and a child that died young.) After that, he headed to Columbia law school and started to study laws. He became very good in politics in 1910, he was elected to the New York state and later the assistant secretary of the Navy.

During Presidency

Franklin D. Roosevelt was president for 12 years, he was the 32nd ever president of the USA (United States Of America.) During the 12 years of Presidency, he had his men fight in WW2 for their country and duty. His vice presidents were John Norse Garner, Henry Agard Wallace, and Harry S. Truman.

Why he is an inspiration

When Franklin started to lose hope due to his illness, his wife, Anna Eleanor Roosevelt Insisted to not give up! So even though his illness started to get worse, he pushed through and ended up being a massive inspiration for people all over America and the UK today and back then. He is sometimes known as one of the best leaders of America from WW2.

Death

Sadly, Franklin D. Roosevelt died just before the war ended so he never got to see how his great leadership effected his victory and made his country safe for back then and today. Franklin D. Roosevelt died on the 12th of April 1945. He died in Goergia in the warm springs. He died whilst posing for a painting he collapsed in a stroke. His last words were "I have a terrible headache." He died at the age of only 53 due to his illness in his legs making him unable to stand
